WITH BYNUM OUT OF THE WAY EX-GOV. GRAY SEEKS THE OFFICE.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 29.-A report has gained circulation that ex-Gov. Gray, who has been mentioned as a candidate for President, has decided to be a candidate for the nation for Governor. Mr. Gray is reti cent, but the story goes that his determina tion to run for Governor was formed when Congressman Bynum decided not to be a candidate. This is not regarded as an abandonnent by Gov. Gray of his ambition for a place on the Presidential ticket. On the other hand it is considered that his nomination would give strength to his claims before the Chicago convention and in the event that he is not placed on the national ticket his nomination and election as Governor would make him a formidable candidate for Senator Turple's seat in the Senate.

An evening paper that has assiduously opposed the strike sent a reporter to the Shelby street stables this morning. His identity soon became known and he was set upon by the mob collected there. The reporter by a stroke of diplomacy lost himself and finally succeeded in escaping in a cab.

Charles Deer, a machinist, employed in the Panhandle shops, while going to work this morning was assaulted by the striking machinists and almost killed. The railroad company has declared its intention of taking the case into the federal court.

When the policemen who were sworn in this morning appeared on the streets they were surrounded by the crowds and followed from place to place with hoots and yells, and all kinds of insults were heaped upon them. One of the extras was followed a dozen squares by an excited crowd and was assaulted and badly beaten by the mob. He finally escaped and ran into the court house where protection was afforded him. The mayor at once realized that it would be impossible to run the cars under such circumstances and he decided that he would not furnish police protection if the company was foolish enough to demand it with a view of starting cars. He called President Dugan of the brotherhood to his office and asked him to take the strikers from the streets and stop circulating petitions for the removal of President Frenzei. He then promised that the company should not run any cars to-day, and in the meantime an attempt will be made to reach a Quarantine from her boarding place, No. 1008 North Seventh street, suffering with the ed fever brought to St. Louis by the such cases, her husband and children were such cases, her insband and children were also sent to quarantine to avoid, as far as possible, all danger of the typhus fever spreading and gaining a foothold in this city through its progress from family to family. No other member of the Shapphear family had then been stricken with the fever, nor has it yet developed itself among that family, but sanitary precaution demanded that all be secluded at Quarantine, where they have been rigidly watched, and where also there are at present nine other typhus patients.

had been very despondent, although the dread disease promised to touch her but lightly with its scorching breath. Surrounded also by her family it was to be supposed that the patient had every reason to battle bravely against the disease, and any idea that the fever would lead the woman to such a desperate deed as self-destruction was never entertained by the Quarantine nurses or physicians. But her despondency seemed to deepen with each day, and yesterday it culminated in the suicide, successfully carried out amidst such unusual surroundings.

Testerday morning young Mrs. Shapphear, so far as the progress of the fever was concerned, appeared better than at any time during her few days' stay at Quarantine. She showed signs of marked improvement, and shortly after noon, only a little time before she deliberately ended her own life, she had taken some nourishment, administered by one of the nurses. But even then the poor woman must have finally declued upon the means and manner of her self-destruction, because in less than an hour she had put it into execution with pathetic deliberation. Only in the brief time possible between the visits of the nurses or of the suicide's husband and children to her bedside could her desperate plan be carried out, and Mrs. Shapphear had evidently caimly awaited that moment, and then in the quiet hush of the sick ward gone quickly about her awful work.

STEANOE MEANS OF SUICIDE.

Lying in the Quarantine cot, weak with lever, the wife and mother sent her soul into eternity, ending her life without a weapon of any sort and by means against the use of which no precaution could be taken save that of strapping the poor woman down to the bed. She had taken the sheet from around her form, twisted it into a sort of rope, and then carefully enviewing her figure and face in the remaining bed clothes, wrapped the sheet tightly about her throat and with awful resolution and courage, deliberately strangled herself to death without apparently once relenting from her purpose or allowing a cry or seen at the first glance that the poor woman had died from strangulation.

BEGGTD HER HUSBAND FOR A KNIFE.

Then it was learned that she had been contemplating self-destruction for some days past. Mr. Shapphear, the suicide's husband, stated that only the day before his wife had asked him for a knife with which she might cut her throat and so escape from the trouble and sickness that seemed to have almost turned her brain. The husband had, of course, refused to supply her with a weapon and, believing that she was half-delirious from fever, paid but little attention to her request. He had no fear her request. He had no fear her did not good the discovered how she had carried her suicidal intention into effect. The scene around the suicide's cot in Quarantine was a touching one, the husband and little children of the dead woman being overcome with grief. Mrs. shapphear was only 22 years old. The suicide also received an added element of sensationalism from the fact that its victim was suffering from typhus fever, the appearance of which in St. Louis has recently sent a shock of dread through the entire city. It is proper to state here that the city health authorities and the Quarantine officials announce that they have the fever under control and that there is no danger of its spreading. The inquest on the body of Mrs. Shapphear will be held by a Justice of the Peace, the Quarantine Hospital being outside of the jurisdiction of the Coroner of St. Louis here to the control of the purisdiction of the Coroner of St. Louis Priced Rouse in America for Pine

PAPER CARRIERS' ENTERTAINMENT. A Large and Gay Party at Central Turne Rail Last Night.

The Paper Carriers' Protective Association of St. Louis gave their first entertainment last night. It was a financial success, last night. It was a financial success, and in other respects a success also. The stage performance was very clever. Song and dance specialties were in the bill, trained dogs performed some remarkable feats and the Lockett sisters, two misses respectively 9 and 14 years of age, entertained the audience with songs and dances. Refreshments were lavishly served and good cheer prevailed. The carriers showed the jenthusiasm they felt at the regard shown them by the large attendance. After the theatricals there was a dance which lasted until morning hours. The money realised on the admissions will be used for the mutual benefit of the paper-carriers, but more especially to employ substitutes to deliver papers for such carriers as may be deterred from their duty by sickness.

He thought that some one of the family must be ill and went to the front door to investigate. As he opened the door he saw a man emerge from the Dyer house carrying a large bundle. lics "the only true religion," as he expressed it.

According to Sadler's Catholic Directory for 1881, Father Redding was born in Luxembourg, Germany, in 1862, and was ordained for the Jiocese of St. Louis June 25, 1879. The same issue says that he was at that time at Clear Creek, Cooper County, Mo. The succeeding issues of the Directory do not contain his name. The clergy of St. Louis, who knew Father Redding, do not care to speak about the matter. Father Van der Sanden, the Chancellor of the Diocese, said: "He was suspension within haif a year after his ordination." The Chancellor refused to say where the unfrocked priest was stationed in St. Louis occause he said that the publication would revive ancient scandals. Rev. Father Faerber said that Father Redding had several charges in St. Louis and elsewhere but he remained only a short time in each place.

As he opened the door he saw a man emerge from the Dyer house carrying a large bundle. He at once recognized the fact that a burglary was being committed, and rushed to his room for his revolver. When he returned the burglar was still in sight, and Mr. Coggeshall began a fusiliade. At the first shot the robber dropped his burshed that he was uninjured, Mr. Coggeshall sent two more builets after the fugitive, but they were evidently not billeted on him. The cases on which the decision was based were those of Marshal Field of Chicago, and of New York merchants who protested against the payment of duties of certain woolen dress goods and other importa-tions on the ground that the McKinley bill by reason of the omission from the enrolled bill of the tobacco rebate clause, agreed to in conference and contained in the bil it passed both houses. The Court holds this omission does not make the bill illegal. It also holds that the reciprocity and sugar bounty sections of the bill are constitutional. It was contended that the reciprocity section was unconstitutional because it delegated legislative powers to the

The Court also decided that the contract between the vestry of Trinity Church and Rector Warren did not violate the spirit origine anti-contract labor law and the judgment of the Circuit Court of New York, imposing a penalty of $1,000 was reversed. The court also affirmed the validity of the barbed wire fence patent, held by the Washburne & Moen Manufacturing Co.

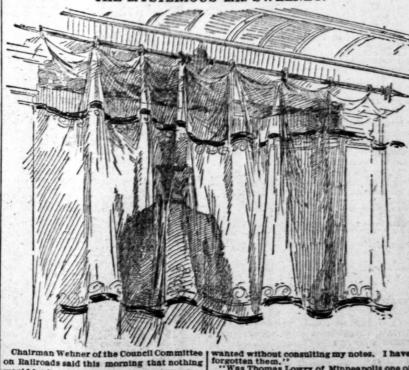

The silver men have gained their point as far as having the Bland silver bill considered by the House is concerned. The House Committee on Rules, at its meeting this morning agreed to report a resolution making the silver bill the order of business for three days, beginning March 22. No date was fixed for measures concerning tariff, and this will probably not be done until Mr. Springer is able to be about again.

this afternoon for the purpose of hearing the report of Web M. Samuel in reference to the bill to be presented to Congress asking for a permanent annual appropriation of $8,000,000 for the improvement of the river channel. Mr. Samuel stated that nearly every one in Washington received with the greatest favor the proposition to make the work of river improvement continuous, instead of relying on appropriations from year to year. He had a conference with the committees of both houses of Congress, with the Mississippi River Commission, and with Gen. Casey, Chief of Engineers. All approved of the plan and Mr. Samuel felt confident that a permanent appropriation would be made, the amount of which, however, could not be predicted. The bill formulated by the Merchants' Exchange would be introduced in both houses of Congress. The chief of engineers stated that no separate appropriation was required to authorize the construction of dredge-boats, as money for this purpose could be taken from the funds at the disposal of the Mississippi River Commission, and plans were being drawn for the boats, which would probably be ready for work by August. A letter from Samuel Byrns of the Tenth District was read, in which Mr. Byrns stated that the project was meeting with the greatest favor. A committee consisting of Web M. Samuel, Frank Gaiennie, Thomas Booth, Isaac M. Mason and Geo. H. Morgan was appointed to visit Kansas City and confer with the Missouri Riyer Commission in reference to the bills now before Congress for the Improvement of the Western waterways. According to some writers the whole number of symbols is over 40,600, of which, after deducting the obsolete ones, about 25,000 are said to be in modern use.

This wast number of symbols is expressed by only 400 or 500 syllable sounds, which, by way of different intonation, are increased to about 1,500, or according to some authorities, to only about 1,200. This peculiar state of affairs makes the language the richest in the number of written symbols, but the poorest in the number of different sounds by which these symbols are expressed in the living speech; and since the same sound may represent sixty or more different words, the Chinese, to overcome this difficulty, fix the proper meaning by combining the word which it is desirable to make understood with another bearing a similar or supplementary meaning, and, by placing, in the case of nouns, classifying words between them and the numerals which precede them.

A PROBLEMATICAL DUKE.

Ern st of Saxe-Coburg Did Not Congratulate the Emperor on His Birthday.

From the New York Sun.

There was one man missing from the list of Kings and Princes who congratulated Emperor William on Friday and that was the Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha.

The Duke is an old man now. He has lived out the allotted span, but is still a strong man. He is the horther of Prince Albert, the husband of Queen Victoria, and is therefore the grand-uncle of William II.

Duke Ernst's life has been en odd one. His younger brother married a Queen. The Duke himself married a woman for whom he cared nothing. They have had no children. The successor to the reigning Duke is the Duke of Edinburgh, who married the daughter of the father of the present Czar. When Duke Ernst dies, however, Prussia will probably absorb the duchy on payment of a sum to the heir. Duke Ernst has always been a problematical character in German history. He is a very able man, a very rich man. He took an important part in the Schloswig-Holstein war and in the war of 1898. He went to the front in 1870 against France. But the moment trouble was over it was laisser aller with him. In his youth, while an officer in a cavalry regiment, he made a wager that he could ride a thoroughbred and beat a train from Gotha to Eisenach, a distance of twenty-five miles. He won his wager, but injured himself severely.

About twenty-five years ago he fell in love miles. He won his wager, but injured him-self severely.

About twenty-five years ago he fell in love with an actress, Fraulein Grahi by name, of the Ducal Court Theater. She was about 30 then, the leading actress, and very hand-some. The Duke built a house for her directly opposite his palace. There was scandal, of course, but that made no difference. Scandal did not bother him.

The Coroner held an inquest this morning on the body of Joseph Fritz, the porter, who fell down an elevator at 4821 North Second street, and returned a verdict of accidental death. The testimony showed that Fritz had fallen down the same elevator before, the room being so dark that it was impossible to tell whether the shaft was open or closed.

President Burnet sat at his desk in the office of the Board of Public Improvements to-day making little rough pencil sketches of the bath-houses. "I think they can be built for about $8,000 apiece," said he, "but the land has to be bought, and that ought to be seen about at once if the ouiding is to be pushed through in time for the houses to be used this summer. It will take very little time to get up the plans. Now, my idea is this," said he holding up one of the sketches he was making, and pointing to a coil beneath the water that looked in the crude drawing like a serpent. "If we are going to do this thing, we ought to do it well, and the bath-houses should be as complete in everything as we can make them. They should be made of stone and brick, and should be equipped with all the swimming-school apparatus. Of course they mustn't be on the river. That is out of the question. Their water must come from the city works.

"They should be open all the year round, the water being heated by pipes in the winter. That will cost very little in addition to the other expense. In that way only would they serve the purpose they are intended for, and now-a-days a swimming school not equipped in that way is not up to date. I had not been toid that these bath houses were wanted at once, and I shall see now that the ordinance and estimates are got up without loss of time."

He stated that if the exchanges of the country would take steps to a bolish trading on puts and calls, and to put down the bucketshops, that he believed that the bill would be defeated. The original advocates had in many instances come to the opinion that the abolition of future sales would open the way to the control of the crops by a combination of millers and result in a great depression of prices during the season of harvest. Searly all important exchanges have now rules against put and call trading, but these rules have not been strictly enforced. It is predicted that a stiffening of the rules will lead to the defeat of the bill. A private telegram stated that, while th

LONG RANGE CRUSADING.

Under a maddening provocation a mo of citizens recently burned a negro at the stake in Texarkana. The crime they committed was an outbreak of savagery scarcely less abhorrent to humanity than the crime they hoped to repress by resorting to cruel, unusual and unlawful punish-

Their plea that their wives and daugh tert can be protected only by a swifter and more appalling punishment of ignorant and brutal negroes than the death sentence inflicted by law, is obviously defective and utterly fails to justify the cruelty of the mob. It shows only that they were too much infuriated to reason, to care for law or to refrain from committing an inhuman crime themselves. Doubtless they secretly felt this themselves when the excitement wore off, and wished that they had had as little to do with the burning as the great majority of their fellow-citizens.

But it does not follow that the papers great and well policed cities are justified in holding up this mob horror as a proo that Texarkana or the State of Arkansas is a den of savagery. The just condemnation of an excited mob's conduct does not carry with it the branding of a whole community. That sweeping method of judging and passing sentence of infamy upon communities at a distance is what breeds secvendettas into our politics. Getting excited about the mote in neighbor's eye, we are too apt to forget the beam in our own. It is much safer for a newspaper to assail crime and error at long range and in a wholesale way than to afford to invite a comparison of its morality, its respect for law or its free-MR. SPRINGER is ill, but his majority dom from crime with Texarkana by precedents in the history of big cities like St. Louis and New Orleans, and is liable to Texarkana or Fort Scott, Kan., or in the

But the metropolitan newspapers can condemn the violence without condemning civilized or humane than other places. There is no metropolitan newspaper that cannot exhaust its energy and space exposing and condemning the prevalence of worse brutality at home than is ever exhibited in exceptional and rare spasms of passion in Texarkana or Fort Scott. But a cheap reputation for virtue is not to be made by a hand to hand fight against powerfully intrenched brutality and vice at home.

Idiotorily the Republic yesterday said: Now that the Republic is able to claim truthfully that it has a larger bona fide circulation than any other newspaper published in St. Louis, it cannot be accused of having any ulterior motive in saying a few pla words regarding circulation in its relation to advertisers.

From the New York WORLD. In the next Electoral College Illinois will have 24 votes. Added to Wisconsin's 12 these just equal the vote of New York. With Iowa's 18 they would make one vote in excess

As with Iowa and Wisconsin, Kansas and Nebraska, the Republican hold on Illinois has been gradually weakening. Grant had an actual majority of 56,884 in 1872. Harrison's plurality of 22,195 was only 500 in excess of the Prohibition vote, and with the Democratic and the Labor vote added the Republican candidate was in a minority of 6,500 in

In 1890 the Democrats elected the State Treasurer by a plurality of 9,847. The legislative candidates pledged to the support of Gen. Palmer for Senator had a majority of 30,000. The Congressional delegation was reversed from seven Democrats to thirteen Republicans. And the Democratic candidates had an aggregate majority of 31,000.

The victory of 1890 was a sweeping and a significant one for the Democrats. While it did not show that the State is to be counted on for the party in a presidential year, it does indicate that under the most favorable circumstances the Democrats would have a hopeful fighting chance there in November. Those circumstances are of course the cago Convention, with a young, vigorous and It now seems likely that Senator Palmer's name will be presented by his State, and that he may have a considerable support.

Illinois thus becomes a State with interesting possibilities and perhaps of increased importance in the coming struggle. Chicago has shown on two recent occasions that the seat of the new empire of the West is not to be lightly reckoned with when questions in-volving all the Union of forty-four States are

I will answer the question in a very few I will answer the question in a very few words. In the first place coal can be delivered to manufacturers in St. Louis at an average cost per ton of less than $1.15, as compared with $1.75 to $2.50 and even higher in other large cities. As your correspondent says, raw material of almost every description can be obained here at exceptionally low prices, while the city's geographical location renders it almost without a competitor as a manufacturing point. St. Louis is the best railroad center in the United States, and its facilities for distributing its products are constantly increasing, owing to the anxiety of the large railroad systems to secure a portion of its rapidly increasing trade. St. Louis is the only city in the United States which is known to any extent in Mexico, which Republic draws from this city its best and most costly supplies, particularly, it may be stated, in machinery, agricultural implements, cars, etc. St. Louis is the acknowledged metropolis of the West and Southwest, while almost the entire South also comes here with its orders. The country tributary to St. Louis is building up so rapidly that within a very few years the demand for manufacturerd goods will more than double itself and there will be an increased rush of manufacturers here from the East. A score of other reasons might be given as arguments in favor of the location of manufacturers in this city, but I have no desire to encroach unduly on your space. It is important, however, to remind your correspondent and those who have read his letter, that no city in the United States shows such an enormous increase in manufactures during the last ten years, the output having been more than doubled in several lines, while in some the returns for 1890 are ten and even fifteen times as large as those for 1890. Your correspondent mentions especially street cars. Our local street car factories are executing orders for cars from almost every part of the Union and they even ship cars to distant continents; also the largest order for steam ra words. The Brief Courtship of a St. Louis

HOW CALVIN E. PEASE CAPTURED MISS CORINNE BRUYEAR.

The Couple in the City on Their Wedding Trip-Preparing to Begin Housekeep ing in Ohio-A Young Traveling Sales man Who Closed a Matrimonial Deal

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin E. Pease, a loving young couple, are in the city to-day on their bridal tour. They are the young people who figured in an exceedingly ron say sensational, marriage in Hot Springs Saturday afternoon. It was a case of love at first sight and the marriage followed in quick succession. They had not been acquainted more than a week, yet the affection between them developed sufficiently was in Hot Springs on a visit with her uncle, Mrs. C. F. Burnes of St. Joseph, where she met the young man of her choice. They were introduced at the Park Hotel, where both were stopping, just one week prior to the day of their marriage. Young Pease, who is but 24 years of age, was fond of horseback riding, and so was the young lady, who in single life was Miss Corinne Bruyear. She was handsome and just past her 18th birthday. They went out riding together several times and every evening young Pease made it a point to meet her in the hotel parlor. He was there as the representative of his father's brass works in Dayton, O. The gay young drummer believed in hurrying matters, and so did the pretty object of his affection. Saturday afternoon Miss Bruyear started out on a shopping tour and met young Pease. They had an earnest conver-sation for a few minutes, and then they started out to find a Justice of the Peace. HELPED THE LOVERS.

According to reports they were assisted in carrying out their plans by a young man named Dick Dillon. He heard them inquiring for a Justice in front of the store where the young lady had been making her purchases, and he at once volunteered his services. He took the pair to the County Clerk's office, where the license was obtained. They next sought a justice who pronounced them husband and wife. This done they repaired to the hotel, where they were registered, to break the news to Mr. Burnes. He was staggered by the statement of his young niece, but soon recovered from his surprise and began looking at the affair from a philosophical point of view. He objected to the coid, formal ceremony that had been performed by the Justice and urged the couple to have a clergyman clinch the union with some religious ceremony. They accepted his suggestion and were remarried by a minister of the Episcopal faith. About this time young Pease's father reached the city and was almost lifted off his feet by the announcement that his son was a married man. He had no previous knowledge of the courtship and expected on his arrival to find his son furthering the business of his brass foundry, instead of engaging in a hurried matrimonial enterprise. He met the young lady and then congratulated both parties.

An Alleged Benoken Engagement. According to reports they were assisted in the young lady and then congratulated both parties.

AN ALLEGED BROKEN ENGAGEMENT.

When it became known that Miss Bruyear had accepted young Pease's offer the report was given out that she had broken her engagement with a young St. Louis man named Mears. This story was given much circulationand caused much embarrassment. Young Mears, it appears, was in close business relations with Mr. Burnes, the young lady's uncie, and it was claimed was the intended husband of Miss Bruyear until young Pease came along and upset the entire programme. The report nettled Mr. Mears and he emphatically denied it.

This morning the young groom was mears and he emphatically denied it.

This morning the young groom was seen by a Post-Dispatch representative after a return from a walk with his bride. He said that the story that the young lady had jilted Mr. Mears was entirely untrue.

had jilted Mr. Mears was entirely untrue.

FEASE EXPLAINS MATTERS.

"She was not engaged to him," he said,
"and the story is an injustice to both my wife and Mr. Mears. It is ture that we were married after one week's courtship, but such things have occurred before without causing any talk, My wife was visiting in Hot Springs with her uncle, Mr. C. F. Burnes of St. Joseph and I was there on a business trip for my father. We were introduced and went out riding several times. I formed the idea that marriage would not be out of order so I made the proposal and was accepted. We were married was conveyed to Mr. Burnes he told us to have some ceremony performed by a clergyman. We did so, and then left the city on our wedding trip. We will shortly go to Dayton, O., where my father's business is established, and take up our residence there. I regret, indeed, that there has been so much said about our marriage and I particularly regret the fact that Mr. Mears has been placed in such an unjust light."

The young man's father stood by while he was talking, and did not seem in any way disturbed by his son's unexpected marriage. "She is a bright and handsome lady," he said, "and will make her a good wife, and I know my son will make her a good husband. I can congratulate them and wish them every happiness. At the same time it was odd that they should be married after six or seven days' acquaintance."

The couple will leave here to-night or to-morrow for Dayton.

No Burial of the Hatchet. The announcement that Mayor Noonan and the Fire Chief and Water Commissioner had buried the hatchet and were henceforth to live together in peace and harmony as members of the one political family is rather premature. The story was that the three genmature. The story was that the three gentlemen had met at Faust's last Saturday evening, patched up their political differences and cemented the new-born friendship with several bottles of wine.
Nothing else was talked about this morning, and the prophets were quite at sea as to the outcome of the new deal.

Commissioner Holman was inspecting a water color of the new Compton till water tower when the reporter dropped in. "Congratulations are not in order, "he said. "I was not at Faust's Saturday night, and if the gratulations are not in order, 'he said. 'I was not at Faust's Saturday night, and if the other gentlemen were there I have heard nothing of the outcome. I don't think there is anything in the report, 'and the Commissioner branched off into a disquisition on the big boric column.

Chief Lindsay laughed when asked for his version of the meeting. 'The Taylor, two friends and myself were eating supper at Faust's when the Mayor and Secretary Brennan's brother dropped in. Mr. Taylor invited them to join the party, and they came over. We chatted pleasantly, but combine politics were not touched on during the conversation of the slightest reference made to appointments.' Another rumor discussed this morning was that Supply Commissioner John Gilbert intended to resign. Considerable amusement was caused by the statement in a morning paper that his successor-would be Maj. O. F. Guthrie. It is a well-known fact that the Major, once a bosom friend of the administration, has fallen from grace. He and the Mayor's Secretary are at dagger's points. Mr. Gilbert's friends deny the report that he intends giving the office up. If he does the name of Secretary Brennan will be sent in for his place.

The Street Sweeping Contract.

The members of the Board of Public Im-provements are growing alarmed over the action of Contractor Mueller of the Mueller Coal & Heavy Hauling Co., who was awarded Coal & Heavy Hauling Co., who was awarded the contract for sweeping the granite asphalt and Telford pavements. Although the contract was let over ten days ago he has falled to qualify. The work begins to-morrow and the Street Department is in a quandary lest he lay down on his contract. If he does not qualify to-day, the 14,100 earnest money he deposited with the City Treasurer will be forfeited. It is very probable that Mueller will not attempt to carry out the work, as his contract price is so low that he will lose money from the start. The board knew this when the bid was received, but were obliged to award him the work under the charter provision. The Street Commissioner says if Mueller fails he will hire men and sweepers to carry on the work until the new contract can belet. The board will ask the City Counselor's opinion on whether the work will have to be relet over again or awarded to the next lowest bidder.

THE CIVIL COURTS.

Suppressing Divorce Cases at the Circuit Clerk's Office-Suits in Court.

Suppressing divorce suits of prominent persons is becoming quite a fad in the Circuit Clerk's office. Two suits which were filed on Saturday were kept off of the books until after office hours. The of the books until after office hours. The papers have not yet been given to the press, although a demand was made for them on Saturday evening after the plot was discovered. The suits in question are those of Harry W. Chambers against Inis C. Chambers and Agnes W. Macbeth against James R. Macbeth. Col. Robt. W. Goode, the attorney in the Macbeth case, was seen by a Post-Disparch reporter to-day and admitted that his suit was a divorce case on the ground of desertion, but denied that he had made any attempt to have it suppressed. Judge William C. Jones, the attorney in the Chambers case, refused to give up the papers, and the nature of that suit, as far as kowledge of facts is concerned, beyond those immediately interested, is conjecture. Thomas Dunn, the issuing clerk in the Circuit Clerk's office, says it is a divorce suit and that Chambers is a member of a prominent family here. This makes the fourth case which has been worked through or attempted to be worked through the Circuit Clerk's office in the last few months.

The manner in which the suppression scheme was concocted, worked and discovered is interesting. A short time before the closing hour of the Circuit Clerk's office on Saturday afternoon Judge William C. Jones appeared in the office, and, going behind the railing, held a whispered conversation with E. S. Jeffreys, who receives the petitions of suits when filed and makes an entry of them on the docket book. Judge Jones then left the office, and, going behind the railing, held a whispered conversation with E. S. Jeffreys, who receives the petitions of suits when filed and makes an entry of them on the docket book. Judge Jones then left the office, but the door was closed and could not be opened. A second call, however, resulted in access being gained to the office. The suits were found entered on the docket book. A demand was made for the papers in the case and Clerk Douns tated that they had gone down to the Sheriff. By this time the Sheriff's office was closed.

After the storm of Saturday night the dif ferent parties to the fight over James Mc-Groarty's leg have cooled down and are now ooking about for the best way to set themselves straight.

given him by the Medical Society, and is try ing to decide how much further he will carry his charges against Dr. Broome Dr. Irwin has taken the back trail and is hunting cover under the plea that the Coro-ner's office had nothing to do with the fight. Dr. Brennan is explaining and protesting against the multiplicity of charges made.

Dr. Broome is thinking over what he will say on the subject in a written communication. In the meantime Deputy Coroner Meade, who conducted the inquest, has returned a verdict, stating that the man died from the effects and results of being run over and having his leg crushed under a street car.

Deputy Coroner Meade's finding would have averted much trouble had he made it sooner. As it is Dr. Brennan's finding is ignored so far as the amputation is concerned and might as well have been omitted entreally.

Dr. Brennan was seen this morning at the office of Dr. Broome, where he had gone to make sure that Dr. Broome was not weaken-

"'Do you still stilk by your ness testaments in the case?" was asked.

"Yes, I do, I wish to explain the whole matter. I said in my report that one of the causes of death was the amputation. That amputation was contributive to the death of that man. A proper amputation would have for weeks before he died in suitesta in tensely from that open sore and that unhealed and unhealable stump. That amputation was contributive to the death of that man. A proper amputation would have healed in seven weeks. This one after seven weeks was still an open, painful wound, which night and day kept the man from sleeping and therefore he claims it contributed to his death. In my report, which I made as a sworn officer, I had to mention that stump and that wound. How could I do otherwise? I did not specify what proportion of the cause it was. I said it was a contributory cause, and so it was. Just how much it had to do with the death would have to be settled by a jury or otherwise. As to the motives ascribed to me, that is all nonsense. I was anxious to have ther dectors attend the post mortem and asked Mr. Meade to invite a prominent surgeon, which for some reason he did not do. I had only the colored man, Jenkins, from the Morgue to assist me, and made the finding I did according to my own judgment. I stick to what I said, that that amputation contributed to the death of James McGroarty."

CORONER IRWIN'S POSITION.

Dr. Irwin, the Coroner, was seen and said: "I have nothing to do with this fight, I am merely acting as an official and doing what I think is right. In justice to those two doctors I want to say that I am responsible for their having taken away the stump. I told them that they could go out there and do what they thought was right. I have the stump now, and when all is over it will be given a decent and respectful burial."

"How far does the Coroner's physician in giving the cause of death?"

"Not at all. He need not take his finding. Suppose the Coroner's physician says a man died of kidney trouble, and a physician in giving the cause of death?"

DR. LOVE MAKES A STATEMENT.

Dr.I.N.Love, who took an active part in the discussions of Saturday night, made a statement to-day of his position in the matter. In view of the importance of the subject, and the amount of trouble it has already caused. Dr. Love preferred to furnish his statement in writing. Dr. Love among other things said:

Dr. Love preferred to furnish his statement in writing. Dr. Love among other things said:

"In truth I was not aware at the time the report of the Superintendent of the City Hospital was made, of the nature of the attack that had been made upon him in the daily press by the Coroner's physician, or that any statement had been made by a surgeon who happens to be connected with the Marion-Sims College of Medicine. I was practically ignorant of all the previous history of the balton-Brennan discussion.
"Upon the regular programme, under the head of scientific communications, the Superintendent of the City Hospital had a clinical report with a pathological specimen to present. He presented this in as complete a manner as possible, but he went beyond it and brought in a very intemperate way the discussion of absent members who were supposed to have criticised and attacked him through the newspapers. No attack by anyone had been made upon the Doctor within the Medical Society. Every word of a personal character uttered at that time should have been declared promptly out of order. Had the Superintendent of the City Hospital desired to have preferred charges or condemned any member of the Society upon that occasion, he should have done so under the head of extraordinary business. The better plan would have been to have given notice to the Society or to have preferred a direct charge and had the same referred to the Committee on Ethics. After the chairman permitted the irrelevent personal and severe language to be uttered as part of a scientific communication, it introduced a resolution giving the speaker an opportunity to place himself right upon the records of the society. He appreciated it evidently as heaccepted my resolution and seconded it, but under the linfluence of men evidently anxious to get even with some one and make "iv ictim" as your reporter well expresses it, he weakened and consented to the clamprous, undignified, unfi-that Dr. Bond and myself have both been friends to him during a long series of years and in a very practical way. For more than twenty years the writer has given him evidence of his desire to serve him and he regrets that the doctor did not have the judgment to permit others to influence the society in the direction of an action which would have then more to his credit in that it would not have looked as though it were railreaded through; in fact the hot haste of Saturday night's action weakens materially the case as presented by the Superintendent of the City Hospital.

"A word regarding some of the so-called friends of the Superintendent who have seemed to be to the front in engineering maters of interest to him. They are not good advisers. They will lead those whom they serve in wrong directions and their service is never an unselfash one. They apparently are prompt to condemn the misconduct or the misdemanor and wavering walk and conversation of members of the medical profession outside of the medical society.

"It would be gratifying to the members of the St. Louis Medical Society if the daily versation of members of the medical profession outside of the medical society.

"It would be gratifying to the members of the St. Louis Medical society if the daily press would religiously ignore the sessions of the society. A part of the organic law directs that the proceedings shall be in executive session. More than fifteen years ago the late Dr. John T. Hodgen Introduced a resolution, which was adopted and is still in force, providing for the sosions of the society being held with closed doors and requesting the newspapers to not send representatives. The presence of newspaper reporters in medical societies or a willingness upon the part of the daily press to publish the reports furnished by members favors blatherskite discussions, encourages the members who too often open their mouths only to put their feet into them, and certainly does not stimulate real scientific discussion nor does it develop the best interests of a scientific body."

the best interests of a scientific body."

The animosities aroused by the fight have not been in the least softened and there will surely be more trouble at next Saturday's meeting. Dr. Dalton's charges against Dr. Broome still stand and have not been acted upon in any way. These must either be withdrawn or backed up. as they cannot be left like Mahomet's coffin, floating almiessly about.

The Coroner's end of the case is closed and is in a measure a finding against Dr. Bronnan, although Deputy Coroner Meade takes the broad ground that if McGroarty had not been run over he would not have died.

This afternoon Deputy Coroner Meade re-tired to his private office, and after a short absence returned the following verdict: Absence returned the following verdict:

I find that James McGroarty came to his death at 5,30 a. m, on Feb. 18, at his residence, 1845 Madison street, from exhaustion, consequent from the loss of his right leg, caused by falling under and being run over by a trailer car of the Southern Rallway Co., at 5 p. m. on Dec. 29, 1891, at Sixth and Poplar streets, in said city of St. Louis, in an attempt to board a certain motor car preceding and to which said trailer was attached while said cars were in motion. "What's this?"

"That is a stone indicating the western boundary of St. Louis," was the reply.

"Well, what does the 102 on the top mean?" He was informed that at every mile from the starting point a stone with a number cut on the top was placed in the ground, which indicated the number of miles, and that he was now 102 miles from the piace of beginning; that the last stone was on the river bank in the vicinity of Baden, and that the circumference of St. Louis was about 113 miles.

Here the conversation closed again for a moment, but the Father returned to the charge, and with energy added this: "If Mr. Blaine says I transgressed my priestly functions he makes a grave error. I did not, I simply did what had been approved of by higher authority in the church."

"But," the reporter said, "Mr. Blaine publishes a letter which he says he wrote to you at the time of the marriage protesting against your share in the affair."

"He does, does he?" said Mr. Ducey. "Well, now, I know all about that letter and a pretty poor letter it is. My action and the authority I had for it are well known. They cannot be effaced by the publication of that letter. Let Mr. Blaine be honest. Let him publish also my reply to that letter. No, certainly I will not reveal it, but if the Secretary be an honest man he will does ohimself.

"I don't know why he thinks I should have telegraphed him that I was about to marry his son. The young man claimed to be of legal age and I married him in conformity with the laws of the State of New York, and you will find the record of it on file in the office of the Board of Health. His assertion that the young married him is preposterous. I procured a special dispensation from Archbishop Corrigan to perform the marriage of young Blaine to Miss Nevins. Now let Mr. Blaine go on. I am free from blame and have nothing whatever to say."

NEW TORK, Feb. 29.—A Washington telegram states that the Northedges of Washington claim that "Carpenter" George W. Northedge of 3519 State street, Chicago, is the natural son of Col. Northedge, and as such has no legal claim to the estate. It is claimed by Counsel Duhamel of the Washington Northedges that the Chicago man is George Atwater, and that he in the past has been in confinement against his will.

SERGT. O'SULLIVAN arrested Thomas alias "Shorty" Walker early yesterday morning. Later. Henry Wehrman was brought to the Third District Station by Officers Farlor and Frarrell. Both men and John Enders and Pater Fowler, who were arrested Saturday, are charged with burglary and larceny. It is alleged that on Saturday afternoon the four men drovs up to the grocery store of Districh & Co. of No. 5239 Lee avenue, and, representing themselves as detectives from the Third District sent to recover btolem property, stole a lot of clothing from apartmans above the store. Warrants will be applied for to-day.

I want to say a few words to you about Shirts and Shirt making. There are a great many men who never have a shirt to fit or please them although they have them made to order and pay a top price. . There are several reasons why they are not suited, but it may be unkind in me to give them. I will say this, however, that if you want a shirt made to your measure that will fit you, and please you, and make you comfortable, I will make it for you, provided you do not give me too many instructions as to how a shirt should be made, but give me the order to make it and you the right to reject it, provided it does not suit you. Remember I make nothing but the best and highest class shirts and you take no risk of getting shirts which do not you in my store as a tailor does a coat.

The Pitiable Sight Presented by the Condi-

A. 7. Type 1. Collection Court Leaver, was the control process of the process of NEW YORK, Feb. 29 .- Mrs. Homer Baldwin of Yonkers, one of the victims of the Christ-mas wreck on the Central, is a wonder to the physicians and surgeons tending her. Both ears are entirely gone. There is scarcely a single hair on her head. On one side a large a single hair on her head. On one side a large portion of the skull bone is exposed. Her eyes stare out blankly, and the flesh around them is terribly swollen and inflamed. That anyone could live after undergoing such frightful mutilation is astonishing; but these were not all her injuries. On her left shoulder blade is a ghastly sore. It is healing nicely, but there are evidences that the bone must have been exposed. One hand has been amputated and, as the tissue is mortifying around the wound, another operation will have to be made soon. The fingers have all been removed from the other hand. All these operations have been performed while Mrs. Baldwin was in full possession of her senses, as it was deemed dangerous to administer ether while her brain was in such an excitable and inflamed state. Yesterday Dr. Callan, an expert oculist, visited the patient and plucky sufferer. Dr. Callan found that during the day the little remaining sight that Mrs. Baldwin had left in her left eye was gone. She is totally blind now and without eyelids is a pitable sight. Dr. Callan said that he thought that he would have to remove the eyeballs, which would be a delicate operation, and might result fatally to the patient. When she went aboard the ill-flated train she was a beautiful, captivating woman. Her husband has furnished the skin which is being grafted on the patient's body so far successfully. portion of the skull bone is exposed. Her eyes

The New Delicatessen TO-NIGHT'S BATTLE.

The Contest Between Needham and Ryan at New Orleans.

THE FORMER THE FAVORITE, BUT THE CHICAGOAN SHOULD WIN.

one Baing Made a Big Favorite Over Maher-The Irish Champion Trav eling by Easy Stages-Hogan Wins the Skating Contest in Norway-Base Ball, Turf and Other News.

Tommy Ryan of Chicago and Danny Need ham of San Francisco, formerly of St. Paul, Minn., fight to-night before the Metropolitan Athletic Club of New Orleans for the welter weight championship of America. The latest advices from New Orleans state that being heavily backed by Francisco sports. He is also a strong favorite in the betting being done on the coast and at St. Paul, Minn. The Cali-fornians know Needham, who has a saloon at Oakland, across the bay from San Francisco, and have seen him win several fights. Ryan, however, has never been on the coast. It is principally Chicago money that is being vagered on him. Needham's admirers argue market, were obliged to take many millions of securities from foreign sellers at advancing figures. London freely unloaded upon New York when excitement was at the highest pitch and seems inclined to continue that process. As a consequence of such movements as these, the coal stocks have been concentrated into a few hands; and, though ordinarily such a course of affairs strengthens stocks, in this instance the case is different, for the whole scheme is so vast and involved in so much uncertainty that the difficulty of avoiding large blocks of securities coming on the market is greatly multiplied, especially as present profits are already an irresistible temptation to many holders. that their man was sick when he met Ryan before, and also, that his hands were gone. They state that he is now in prime condition and that his hands are in splendid shape. and that his hands are in spiendid snape. If it took Ryan seventy-six rounds of hard fighting to whip Needham when the latter was sick and crippled they argue that it will be impossible for the Chicagoan to win when the St. Paul man is in good shape. There is a great deal of logic in this argument, providing the claims made in Needham's behalf are true. It is not probable, however, that he was a very sick man the night he fought Ryan until after the battle with the water he was a very sick man the night he fought Ryan until after the battle, when he naturally felt somewhat sick. His hands did trouble him some, but there is a question whether he could have won, even a question whether he could have won, even were his hands better. Ryan is the younger and has greatly inproved since that contest, which was really his first battle of note, and he should and probably will win to-night's encounter despite the fact that his antagonist is the favorite in the betting.

Fitzsimmons promises to enter the ring a big favorite in his contest with Maher Wednesday night. The Australian is a wonderfully clever fighter and a hard man to beat. Most remarkable stories of his condition and prowess come from his training quarters and it is said that all Maher men who visit him go away with their ideas changed and prepared to back the New Zealander. Of course, Maher is an unknown quantity, but he has youth and weight in his favor and has proven himself a remarkable hitter in the few contests he has had, all of which have been with inferior men. The odds promise to

INTEREST IN NEW ORLEANS. New Orleans, Feb. 29 .- The combined attractions of Mardi Gras glove contests have had the effect of bringing here a vast number of people, which by next Tuesday will probably be the largest ever assembled in this city during carnival times. The sporting element will be particularly well represented, embracing in the list nearly all the celebrities of the country, both professional and otherwise. The immediate attraction is the Ryan-Needham contest this evening before the Metropolitan Club, which, if all signs do not fail, will be packed to the doors with standing room at a premium. The principals are probably in better condition than ever before for a similar event. Both have excellent records and both are out for the money and fame which go with victory.

Under these circumstances, a spirited contest is such an assured fact that sports already predict in advance that it will be one of the gamest and most scientific contests on record. The selection of Prof. John H. Duffy as referee is received with general satisfaction. Nobody as yet has ever had occasion to question any of his decisions and it is safe to say that the professor will keep up his record.

Fitzsimmons was in the city Saturday of people, which by next Tuesday will prob-

Mr. Powderly declared in the most emphatic manner that in his opinion there was no question as to the roads being parallel and therefore amenable to the law relating to combination or parallel railroads. record.

Fitzsimmons was in the city Saturday night and looked in the height of form, but returned to Bay St. Louis yesterday. Maher did not arrive yesterday as expected, but is at Montgomery, Ala. He is evidently keeping out of the way. combination or parallel ratiroads.

John Trout Pardoned.

Springfield, O., Feb. 29.—John Trout has Peter Maher, who is to meet Bob Fitzsimmons Wednesday night, and the other was Jack Fallen, one of his trainers. "We will not go into New Orleans until Wednesday," said Billy Madden yesterday. "I am doing everything to keep people from seeing Peter and sizing him up. He left New York Thursday, slipped away without letting a soul, not even the newspapers, know anything about it. We have been making the trip by slow stages," he added, glancing at Maher, who was sleeping peacefully on a seat near by, "to keep Peter up to form. I do not want to tire him out with travel, you see. I see by the papers that we are to go to Carrollton when we get to New Orleans, but that is not quiet enough. I have some other quarters arranged by telegraph, where we will be entirely out of the way. Peter is a good boy. He does not care a bit about being among the sports. If he wins that fight he will go off with some Irish friend or other and dance an Irish reel with the girls."
"Will Maher win the fight?"
"I'd on not know. We are not bragging. I understand the petting is in Fitzsimmons' favor. I have $20,000 with me to back Maher at such odds as that."
"Is he in good condition!"
"Tip-top; but if Fitzsimmons is in as good condition as he is cracked up to be by the newspapers he is just twice as fit as Peter."
Maher himself would not talk.

PUGILISTIC FOINTERS.

La Blanche and Billy Childs have been PUGILISTIC POINTERS. La Blanche and Billy Childs have been matched by the Pastime Club of Los Angeles for a fight on March 24. Childs is the negro who recently punched La Blanche out in three rounds.

Among the New York sports who left Friday for New Orleans to be present at the two big contests which are to take place this was the following: Sam Merritt and Ned Builtu of Bridgeport, Yank Suilivan and Mike Welch of Syracuse, William Keating of Rome, N. Y.; John Coiller and Chas, Seffert, Dr. Blinn, Dr. Herold, P. Kelly, H. V. Harron, C. A. Hall, M. Dowling, Joe Early, H. Carpenter, Tommy Danforth, J. Nannion, John Bohannon, W. H. Reynolds, F. Dempsey, W. McNally, A. J. McDougall and F. Stearns. They will reach New Orleans today.

THE TURF. New York, Feb. 29. -Lord Roseberry's horse Foxhall arrived here to-day on the steamer Nomadic, in charge of Mr. Day, his old trainer. The first three days out from Liver-trainer. The first three days out from Liverpool the ship encountered very heavy weather and Mr. Day despaired of landing his charge in New York, as the horse was very nervous during the gale and sweated heavily. Foxhall is now in good condition and shows no sign of his trip.

Mr. Day designs taking the horse to Mr. Easton's stable in Kentucky after a rest of a day or two. It is generally believed among horsemen that the stallion has been purchased by Foxhall Keene, whose name he bears. The horse, while the property of this young man's father, James R. Keene, as a 3-year-old, in 1881, won the Grand Prix de Paris and the Cambridgeshire and Czarowitch stakes on the other side and captured the Ascot gold cup the following year. Mr. Keene sold him to Lord Roseberry. The horse was not successful in the stud in England and is now returned to his native land in hopes of his improving.

A very curious betting dispute has arisen in Hungary, which has been referred to the Jockey Clubs of Paris and Vienna for decision. A foreign paper states that the ques-tion to be settled is, if a horse is debarred by accident from running in a race, are previous bets on the result, so far as that particular horse is concerned, to be considered valid, or are they canceled? Opinions are divided on the subject, which has given rise to a consid-erable amount of discussion in racing circles. WORTH A GUINEA A BOX."

Two Polish noblemen, Count Joseph Potocky and Count Bavorovsky, made a bet of 20,000 florins with some twenty Hungarian gentlemen that Cadi, a favorite horse belonging to Count Potocky, would win a certain race which has just been run at a meeting at Buda-Pesth. Unfortunately, during the railway journey to Poland, where the horse was at the time, one of Cadi's legs received an injury, and the animal was consequently unable to take part in the race. Count Potocky and Count Bavorovsky claim that the bet is canceled, but, on the other hand, the Hungarian gentlemen maintain that it is still valid, and they ask for settlement. The causes of the accident will be thoroughly investigated, and the decision of the arbiters will, it is expected, be forthcoming at an early date.

New York, Feb. 29 .- The League and American Association Schedule Committee has about finished its labors, and the document to be presented for adoption is not likely to be materially changed. The championly to be materially changed. The championship season will open in April and end in October and 184 games will be played. The double championship season will be tried, and the last half will end in July. The Eastern clubs will play against each other at the start and the Western clubs will do likewise. Each club will play fourteen games with every other club, seven games in the first half and an equal number in the second. There will be some scrambling over desirable saturdays and holidays, and the Chicago, St. Louis and Brooklyn clubs, which arranged the schedule, are not likely to get left.

CLAIMS 87, LOUIS WANTS BASSETT.

CLAIMS ST. LOUIS WANTS BASSETT. A New Lork dispatch says that the relation between the New York club and Infielder between the New York club and Infielder Bassett are still as strained as ever. The dispatch goes on to state that the trouble was caused by Jack Glasscock who, so it is reported, wants Bassett to locate in St. Louis. Glasscock, it is alleged, offered the infielder a salary to play in this city which exceeded the offer made him by the New York club. The result was that when Manager Powers wanted to know what Bassett intended to do about the Glants' offer, the latter informed him that he had it under consideration. This was several weeks ago and nothing has been heard from Bassett since. Manager Powers says he supposes Bassett is acting under orders from Glasscock in keeping quiet, while the latter is making arrangements to open up negotiations with the New York club for his release. Now that President Von Der Ahe is in New York something definite may be expected to develop in the matter. Bassett covered third base for the New York team last season, and filled the position well, though not a strong batsman. The story that Glasscock is after Bassett is not believed in this city. St. Louis is said to be negotiating with Pinckney, whom the Brooklyn club is to release, they having signed Joyce to play third. With Pinckney on third, the Browns would have no need for Bassett. The latter can also play second, but the club already has both Stricker and Crooks to cover the latter bag and as Bassett would not be much if any improvement over these men, the St. Louis club is not apt to try very hard to secure him.

There were present R. W. Maguire of Chicago, who held the proxy of L. C. Krauthoff of Kansas City: Thomas H. Gills of Chicago, representing Mr. Evans, the Columbus member of the committee; and J. C. Ivesson of Milwaukee, the third member of the committee. What was done in the secret session of the committee was not stated further than that a decision would be made some time next week.

ROBINSON STILL UNSIGNED. Robinson, the old Brown Stocking second baseman, who has been wintering in St. Louis, will accompany the Cleveland team to Hot Springs. "Robbie" is still undecided as to where he will locate the coming season. He has offers under consideration, among which is one from the new Western Associa-tion. It is believed that they will place him with Milwaukee if he signs.

"Wang" Made Known to an Approving

Olympic—Other Attractions and Amusement Events.

One had as well try to analyze a hasheesh dream as to analyze "Wang," which was made known at the Gr-nd' Opera-house last evening to the accompaniment of laughter and applause.

It was built solely to entertain. It does not suggest anything to think about, and if it did there would be no time to do the thinking. The author calls the production a burletta, and this name fits the pot-pour lof grotesque to characters and fancies, varied features, bright scenes, handsome and fantastic costs tumes and merry nonsense which make up the thing.

The story of an impecunious regent of Siam who is harassed by creditors, and while ruling with an iron rod, is unable to get a drink in his own dominion, is the basis of the production. In order to secure the hidden treasures of Prince Matawaya, the heir toth throne, he marries a French widow with daughters enough to fill a female seminary and orphan asylum. He has an elephant on his hands which is as big a load on the royal exchedure as on the royal mind. His Senegambian elephant keeper, his general, his senegambian elephant keeper, his general, his server and the results of the componising situation leaves an unpleasion the story, and the scene in question keeper, his general, his server had been treasures of Prince Matawaya, the heir toth throne, he marries a French widow with daughters enough to fill a female seminary and orphanics of the componising situation leaves an unpleasion of the story, and the scene in question keeps the additioned by the treatment of the story, and the scene in question keeps the additioned by the treatment of the story, and the scene in question keeps the additioned breathless with its peace the results of the production of the story and the scene in question keeps the additioned breathless with its peace the results of t on the royal mind. His senegambian elephant keeper, his general, his general, his general, his army, his love afficient and his debts keep the Regent in hot water, but everything ends in accordance with the rules of well regulated burietta.

It is needless to look for any other merit except that of entertainment. There is nothing strikingly original or clever in the book, but it strikes a happy mean and has more than the usual share of laughable gags, amusing incidents and attractive features. It is filled with pleasing music, songs, dances and brilliant scenes. One of the quaintest and more than the usual share of laughable gags, amusing incidents and attractive features. The cast is filled with clever people, who work as much fun as possible out of their opportunities. De Wolf Hopper has a grotesque part in Wang in which his size, big bass voice, agility and methods of fun-making can be used to best advantage. What his work lacks in humor is made up in acrobatic grotesquerie.

Della Fox, as Metaya, is a pretty good show in berself. She takes a boy's part as if she were born to the trousers. She is a package of concentrated daintiness, gracefulness and cleverness. In playing the boy, she suggests the boy, with the winsomeness of a bright girl thrown in, but there was not a touch of shadiness in her work. She has more than mere beauty—the charm of piquance, quick intelligence and grace. Her voice is better than ever, and her work in "Wang" emphasizes the conclusion drawn from her previous efforts that she is by long odds the brightest of her kind on the American stage. She nails every point and scores a pronounced hit.

Samuel Reed contributes amusing work as Cai Fracasse, Airred Klein gives a laughable impersonation of Pepat. Cleverness and good looks combine to make the efforts of Anna O'Keefe and Jeannette St. Henry pleasing, and Edmund Stanley was acceptable as Jean. It would be pleasanter if burlesque instead of reality were depended upon to make the fun of the part of the Widow Frimonse, but Marion Singer treats it cleverly. Last night's addence was enthusiastic in approval of the performance, and repetitions galore were demanded.

ing in favor of the employment of amnia. It was stated as a fact that ammonia rendered the gluten of the flour more soluble than the original gluten, and that the bread in which this action was produced by carbonate of ammonia must be more digest-ible and hence more healthful, and bebause of the extreme volatility of carbonate of am-monia and its complete expulsion from the bread in the process of baking, it is one of the most useful, most healthful and most valtable leavening agents known.

These conclusions are borne out by the very elaborate and exhaustive experiments made by Prof. J. W. Mailet of the University of Virginia, which show conclusively that bread made with a baking powder in which I per cent of carbonate of ammonia is used, in connection with cream of tartar and soda, is not only of uniformly better color and texture, but a product more wholesome, because the ammonia serves to neutralize any organic or lactic acids present in the flour. cause the ammonia serves to neutralize ar organic or lactic acids present in the flour.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 29.-All efforts to for a gigantic lumber trust have failed, and it is quite likely that even the existing rates will be seriously cut before long. W. M. McCormick, the Prince Lumber Co., Henry Bayard & Co., W. Righter, Sons & Co. and sayard & Co., W. Righter, Sons & Co. and Strong, Deemer & Co. of this city were rep-resented at a meeting of lumbermen, recently held in Williamsport, when the proposed trust was discussed. At this meeting thirty-nine individuals and firms, controlling two-thirds of the entire output of hemlock, agreed to advance the schedule all around from 50 cents to $1, but before the meeting closed a further fight ensued, and the entire project fell.through.

The proprietor and manager of the place is a Dr. Henry, and he has an assistant who says he worked in Dr. Keeley's institute at Dwight, Ill. The place is called the Chloride of Gold Medical tute. It is located on the second floor building at 5 West Forty-second street guarantee cures at the Forty-second place. The guarantee is a verbal of this institute they also give patients

If they fail, the patient can buy another box at the same price. The doctor guarantees this.

When he was asked why a man should go to the institute and pay $75, when he could be cured by mail for $10, the doctor had a guaranteed explanation ready at once. He said the trouble with the post-paid chloride pellets at $10 a box was that the patient, when far removed from the watchiul care and sobering influence of the institute, would often neglect to take his medicine regularly, and would sometimes drink before the cure was completed. In such cases it was necessary for him to buy more pellets at $10 a box. In fact, the doctor explained that a complete cure by mail might cost more in the end than to come to the institute if the patient was not prudent. The doctor said his reason for requiring the entire $75 charged for three weeks treatment, to be paid in advance, was that if a man paid only for one week he might feel so nearly cured at the end of the week he would leave, and might in time relapse into his old habits. This would bring discredit on the cure, and it was best to put them through the full course before they are allowed to depart. The place has been opened about a month, and it is said the owners are making money repidly.
